DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
FY 1996/1997 BIENNIAL BUDGET ESTIMATES
OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE, ARMY RESERVE

INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

The mission of the US Army Reserve (USAR) is to provide a trained and ready federal reserve force that can be rapidly mobilized, deployed, and employed at the direction of the National Command Authority whenever needed to support the National Military Strategy in peace and in war, at home or abroad. As the principal provider of the Army's Combat Service Support, the USAR continues to be an indispensable and reliable member of the Total Army team. To ensure USAR units in the Contingency Force Pool (CFP) are maintained at the highest readiness level possible, the USAR has designed and implemented a system called "tiered resourcing" to prioritize limited resources to these early deployers.

The Operation and Maintenance, Army Reserve (OMAR) appropriation funds operational, logistical, and administrative support for the United States Army Reserve (USAR) Forces. Additionally, the OMAR appropriation funds support for the Total Army in areas including records maintenance, civil-military programs, and personnel and administrative support to retirees, veterans, and their families. Costs incurred in providing the support include civilian technician pay, supplies, fuel, equipment and base operations support. Funding is provided in two budget activities: Budget Activity One (Operating Forces) consists of the following subactivities: Base Support, Depot Maintenance, Recruiting and Retention, and Training Operations; and Budget Activity Four (Administrative Support and Service-Wide Activities) consists of the following subactivities: Information Management, Personnel Administration, Public Affairs, and Staff Management.

The FY 1996 / 1997 OMAR budget request of $1,068.6 / $1,033.6 million, respectively, provides training and support to a force of 230,000 / 215,000 Army Reserve Personnel end strength with 10,590 / 10,486 civilian end strength. This civilian end strength also includes military technicians of 6,409 / 6,309.

The FY 1996 / 1997 OMAR budget provides funds to assist the USAR in the migration of its combat aircraft to the US Army National Guard (USARNG) and the transfer of Military Police and some Combat Service Support units from the USARNG to the Army Reserve, in accordance with the Off-Site Agreement restructuring the Reserve Component. The support role of the USAR will be further enhanced in FY 1996 / 1997 with the fielding of the M915/M916 series trucks and heavy equipment transports (HET) for additional transportation roles and missions. This budget also includes a transfer of $3.7 million from Operation and Maintenance, Army to support the ownership of four installations/sub-installations, contract and manpower management. OMAR appropriation also transferred $115 thousand to TRADOC (OMA) to support the Warrant Officer Candidate School for Reserve Component training.

In FY 1996 / 1997, $38.5 / $35.6 million, respectively, is requested to fund various Class I environmental compliance projects, corrective actions, and training programs to improve day-to-day operations.

Included are pay and benefits of civilian personnel and support for operation of 1,113 U. S. Army Reserve Centers, 126 Area Maintenance Support Activities (AMSA), 34 Equipment Sites (ECS), 59 Regional Training Sites, and 27 Aviation Support Facilities.

II. Force Structure Summary:

This package provides for manpower authorization, individual and support equipment, necessary facilities including ADP and associated costs specifically identified and measurable to the units comprising the approved Army Reserve force structure, including mobilization base units, training, medical, and reserve readiness support activities. RECRUITING PERSONNEL: Provides for compensation and benefits for 147 civilian recruiting personnel in FY 1996/1997.

II. Force Structure Summary:

The USAR advertising objective is to support the full-time recruiting force with an intensive radio and print-media campaign designed to generate valid leads for follow-up and to maintain target audience awareness of the USAR "offer." This package provides for operations designed to recruit Reservists and to encourage their continued participation in Reserve troop program units. It includes resources for a limited radio campaign, news films, printing and reproduction of brochures, pamphlets, posters, newspapers, magazines and other contractual advertising, as well as other support costs. Space-buying resources will be split between national and regional (to include local) programs. Primary targets of campaigns will be 17 to 24-year-old nonprior service members. Advertising will also be geared to the prior service, female, and minority markets. The advertising program provides for a full range of marketing and publicity items such as printed matter, awareness publicity campaign, exhibits, and direct mail. The FY 1996/1997 budget request includes funding for Contracted Advisory and Assistance Services.
